

reconstructing transmission chains across spatial and temporal scales subsampling

phylogeographic
analysis

transmission
count

proportional selection of isolates based on case counts translating phylogeographic inferences into actionable epidemiological insights